Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-40 of U.S. Patent No. 6,708,561. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the patent claims the second sensor mounted external to the passage. In the instant application the second sensor is mounted in the auxiliary passage which as shown in the application and the patent are the same and thus would be obvious to a skilled individual to call it an auxiliary passage as the fluid will pass by the second sensor. As to the ceiling having an inclined surface, it would be obvious to an individual having ordinary skill in the art to form a structure that would not create turbulences in the flow and thus to form corners that have extended angles would be better for turbulence free flow past the sensors.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 16-29 are allowed.

4. Claims 9-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: prior arts made available do not teach or fairly suggest, alone or in combination, a wall disposed in the auxiliary flow passage and attached to the second surface and having a curved inboard surface.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 6/29/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The arguments that the 6,708,561 reference does not teach or suggest an auxiliary flow passage having a first surface portion inclined relative to a second surface is not persuasive. Figures 7 and 9 show an inlet surface (not numbered) above the nozzle inlet being inclined relative to the upper surface of the auxiliary passage.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
